

The airwaves that Sinclair Broadcasting uses are owned by the American people and should therefore serve our republic--not one candidate, not one party, not one ideology. Sinclair's decision to air "Stolen Honor" without balancing it with similar programming to balance the Anti-Kerry bias is reprehensible--especially during this important moment in history. As the election draws near, it is essential that the American voter is well informed by a unbiased media and a free and balanced press. The danger of media consolidation is apparent here. It scares me, it enrages me, and it gives citizens of this great nation reason to fear the essence of what makes our government for the people and by the people work. Please do your duty by addressing this issue, and strenghtening FCC media ownership rules.

Your response is valued, appreciated and required.
